Lions Club to honor athletes at banquet

The Antioch Lions Club is sponsoring the Athletic Banquet at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 30 in the high school commons and cafeteria.

This is the 38th year for the Antioch Lions Club sponsorship of a banquet honoring the high school athletes.

This year's banquet is to honor the senior boy and girl athletes, as well as the senior cheerleaders, pom pon, color guard, senior marching band members, most valuable athletes, and state finals qualifiers in 16 sport areas.

THE SENIOR ATHLETES, senior special invited groups, the most valuables, and their sponsors and coaches will be guests of the club. Each teen guest is encouraged to bring a father, a mother or an adult guest. The club would like to limit the adult guest to one since there is limited seating. Tickets will be available at the door at a cost of $5.

The Lions Club and their guests are quite fortunate in having Rick Venturi, Northwestern's new varsity football coach, as the featured speaker.

Venturi is no newcomer to the Big 10. With 13 years of experience in the conference, the former Northwestern defensive back feels "well equipped" to handle his first major varsity head job.

THIS WILL BE the Pekin native's second year with the Wildcat program following experiences with other schools in the league.

Venturi graduated in 1968 and began his coaching as a grad assistant to Alex Agase. The dynamic aide was named freshman coach and defensive backfield coach the following season.

In 1972 Venturi left Northwestern to join Agase at Purdue as defensive coach. Just before coming back to Evanston, Venturi was one of Illinois Coach Gary Moeller's first selections as an assistant.

This past winter has been an outstanding recruiting year for Venturi. With good personnel returning, Northwestern football should be on its way up.

Parents, invited guests, and Lions Club members may purchase tickets at the door.

Emmons board approves summer school Plans

Plans to participate in a six-week summer school program under Title I funding were approved by the Emmons Grade School Board.

Millburn School will coordinate the half-day sessions which will include students from Millburn, Emmons, Grass Lake and Newport Grade School Districts. Millburn will provide buses to pick up pupils from their own school and return them at the conclusion of classes each day, according to Emmons Supt. John Kakacek.

The summer program will concentrate primarily on reading skills, he said.

The board also approved a six-week summer band program at Emmons contingent on student interest.

A special meeting was scheduled for 8 p.m., May 23, to consult with teacher representatives who submitted new contract negotiation plans to the board.

Life safety work which includes painting of halls and washrooms over the summer was approved by the board.

It was announced that eight students have been registered for 1979-80 school year kindergarten.

Antioch Parks and Recreation was given permission to use the Emmons baseball field Tuesday and Thursday evenings for summer Little League play.

The board also agreed to hire a full-time custodian and to continue with Guarantee Trust Life Insurance Co. for student coverage.

Although blacktopping for the school playground probably will not be done until next year, the preparations for the blacktopping will be finished by the first of June, Kakacek said.

The board is working on the budget which should be ready by July 1, he said.

Schaub addresses Chicago Trust Forum

Philip Schaub, assistant vice president of Antioch Savings and Loan, spoke at the Chicago Trust Forum meeting last week.

The Forum is a Savings and Loan industry group discussing IRA and Keogh accounts. Phil told the 130 in attendance about the comparative advantages and disadvantages between IRA and Keogh plans offered by insurance companies and those offered by Savings and Loans.

The primary advantage of the insurance plans is the fact that they can generate income for however long the person lives. The Savings and Loans, on the other hand, offer the highest return available on these plans. They also have the FSLIC insurance of accounts up to $100,000 and offer the greatest flexibility in deposits to and transfers of IRA and Keogh accounts.

Phil advised the executives there to offer their customers savings accounts while the customer is saving for his retirement. Then rollover the account to an annuity when the customer retires.

He said "This will give the customer both the highest and the most secure retirement income possible."

Trustees get requests for revenue sharing funds

Organizations and village departments who serve Antioch residents appeared before the Antioch Village Board to request a share of the Antioch allocation of federal revenue sharing monies for this year.

The board will consider the requests when drawing up the budget for the federal allocation.

THE CHAPLAINCY Service Inc. which operates the Antioch office of Chain 'O Lakes Senior Services providing services to enable seniors to live at home requested $5,000.

Antioch Manager Bernida Johnson spoke on behalf of the Chaplaincy stating "We are the only service in the community which provides this service, which includes tele-care and meal-on-wheels."

Lake County Crisis Center asked for $500 to help provide planned shelter in Waukegan for abused women and their children and a shelter for abused men.

The money requested was based on the contention that five per cent of all households are touched by abuse. According to the request, it was assessed on five per cent of Antioch households at $10 each.

Lake County Council for Seniors, an advocacy group which has instituted the nutrition centers and special prices for senior citizens asked for $500 to help operate the Antioch center.

State Bank plans expansion

State Bank of Antioch is planning a large building program which will increase square footage more than 100 per cent, according to President William Brook.

Construction of six new drive-in lanes between present building and the Jewel Store will begin as soon as contracts are let, he said.

Plans are to connect the new lanes to a three level addition on the east side of the present two level building, with the main entrance changed from Lake St. to Spafford St.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

The weather had something to do with the turnout at the Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon sponsored by the Antioch Savings and Loan, but it was still a super turnout for a worthy cause.

Old Annie Mae herself was all set to participate on my old coaster bike, only to find out I had a flat tire. By the time I got to the filling station and had it pumped up those youngsters were long gone so I decided to pedal over and have a chat with the folks at the News office.

As you know The Antioch News, which shares its office with the Antioch Reporter and Bi-State Reporter, has Saturday office hours and also has new Wednesday hours. Next time your downtown stop in and chat, maybe ole Annie Mae will even be there sipping on a soda.

The stork has sure been busy around Antioch lately. Kathy and Ron Horton of 161 North Ave. have a new son Ryan Gerald, born May 13. And just think, when Ryan Gerald gets home he'll have those twins Renee and Robin to contend with. Sounds like the Horton's will have their hands full. I'm sure that grandma and grandpa Mr. and Mrs. Ray Horton are proud too. A grandson to go along with the two darling girls.

And speaking of proud grandparents, John and Eunice Skowron of Antioch and Joseph and Rose Pechulls of Lake Villa are proud grandparents after the arrival of young Erin Michelle Jones. Mom and pop are Mr. and Mrs. Michael Jones of Lake Villa. The little girl was born May 16.

Annie Mae was one of many who stopped in to see Randy Sodman Saturday morning during the grand opening celebration at Foods Unlimited. I didn't want to ask for a balloon though. I felt kinda silly so I left that for the kids. Randy operates the new store with his brother Steve. Good luck boys.

One of the pleasureable experiences of a stroll about downtown Antioch on Saturday morning is a stop at The Antioch News office where you'll be greeted by Barbara Bailey. Barbara, an attractive blonde teenager who'll be a senior this fall at Antioch High, can help you word a want ad, give you information about getting a news item in the paper and her smile is certain to brighten your day. Stop in at The News office Saturday and don't forget to tell Barbara that Auntie Mae sent you.

Parents complain about pupil transfer action

A delegation of about 25 parents complained to the Antioch Grade School Board about the transfer of Channel Lake School kindergarten, first and second graders to Oakland School next fall.

Supt. Dr. Donald Skidmore said the parents were concerned about the distance traveled in the school bus and that the children will have trouble adjusting to the new school setting.

BOARD MEMBERS listened to the complaints and answered and asked questions, the superintendent reported. The matter will be put on the agenda for the June 5 board meeting under old business, he said.

Skidmore explained that the move to transfer the students to Oakland School next fall was made a few months ago for economic reasons. He said the transfer will save the school district $55,000.

In other business at the May 15 board meeting board members approved the Special Education District of Lake County (SEDOL) budget and reappointed Board Member Clint Glover to be the SEDOL representative from the school board.

Skidmore reported that a $2,000 grant from the Illinois Center for Educational Improvement has been approved for rewriting the language arts curriculum.

Board members approved a consolidated registration week of August 20-24 for both new and returning students. The registration will be held the same week as that of Antioch High School.

SKIDMORE GAVE A report about personnel absences in the school district.

"Each year we experience an increase in the number of days our employees are absent," Skidmore wrote in his notes to the school board. "This phenomena is not unique to our school district but appears to be a national problem, common to public and private business alike. Interestingly, the increase in absenteeism appears to correlate with the birth and growth of sick and personal leave.

"Our non-certified staff demonstrates a much lower rate for absences than does our certified staff. This is true for both sick related and personal leave absences," he wrote.

"The problem I am pointing out is one that is expensive for two reasons. First of all, we will be spending close to $20,000 this year for substitutes. As expensive as this is, it is certainly small when measured against the loss of instructional time for our students.

"SUBSTITUTES IN THE main cannot provide the same quality of instruction that is provided by our regular staff members. Consequently, our students do in fact lose a great deal of regular instructional time annually.

"I am simply pointing out the problem to you at this time to make you aware of it. I intend to study the problem in depth with the administrative staff and to discuss it with our teacher's association. Hopefully, I will be able to return to the board at a later date with some solutions," Skidmore concluded.

School board members approved the application for a minimum of $16,139 in special education supplemental funds.

If the funds are approved, Skidmore listed the three priorities for use of the money: employment of an additional half-time speech therapist; additional remedial reading and math materials at the elementary level; and an aide to assist in the learning disabilities program.

AT THE REQUEST of Skidmore the board held an executive session to discuss the evaluation of the non-certified staff and levels of staffing for the 1979-80 school year.

Skidmore said the board instructed the administration to meet with the employees to get input on wages and working conditions and to report that to the school board.

Board members approved the purchase of tires for the school bus fleet totaling $1,530.

PM&L Theater to stage 'Picnic'

The next play to be presented in PM&L's notably successful Season XVIII is William Inge's "Picnic."

The first performance is set for Saturday night, June 9, and four following presentations will be offered on Fridays and Saturdays, June 15, 16, 22 and 23. All performances will be at the PM&L Theater, 877 Main St., Antioch, where curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

"PICNIC" HAS been revised a number of times by the author of the play. Its original title was "Front Porch." The script was revised — and the title changed to "Picnic" — when the show went to Broadway and to Hollywood in the 1950s, when "happy endings" were a generally popular formula.

It was this version of "Picnic" that won the Pulitzer Prize in 1953, although Inge continued to prefer the original ending. He restored it in the so-called "Summer Brave revision," which was first published in the 1960s and is now being staged by PM&L.

Directed by Tom Hausman, "Picnic" portrays small-town life in the America of the 1950s, when neighbors intensely criticized any deviation from established manners and morals. Challenging traditional patterns of love, "Picnic" presents "the way we were" like it was.

The PM&L cast is a sparkling combination of well-known veterans of the Antioch stage with promising and talented newcomers. Pam Guardi of Waukegan portrays Madge Owens, the small-town beauty; Mike Shapiro, Libertyville, is Beano; Anne Marie Cina, McHenry, Flo Owens; Don Britten, Racine, Hal Carter; Dee Baum, Antioch, Rosemary Sydney; Lillian Allen, Trevor, Helen Potts; Rae Johansson, Fox Lake, Christine Schoenwalder; and Don Beveroth, Paddock Lake, is Howard Bevans.

PM&L's NEWCOMERS in "Picnic" include Ruth Heigeist and Jeff Bergman from Twin Lakes; Don Fremling, Silver Lake; Dennis Monzel, Lily Lake; Phil Jaeger, Zion; and Virginia Harrington, Grayslake.

PM&L's plays, especially this season, are developing a consistent habit of turning out to be resounding hits, and there is every reason to expect "Picnic" to contribute to that pattern.

It is time to start making your plans to see this popular Pulitzer Prize-winning show. Remember to call 395-3055 to make your reservations, and to be at the theater no later than 8:15 p.m. on the night you plan to see the play.

Methodist Church plans musical heritage concert

The United Methodist Church of Antioch, currently in its centennial year, will be celebrating their musical heritage with a concert on Tuesday, May 29, at 8 p.m. in their sanctuary.

Paul Cramer, son of Don and Arleen Cramer of Antioch, and a music student at Wheaton College, will be the organist.

He will be performing several numbers, among them "Choral Prelude: Von Gott van ich nicht lassen" by Johann Sebastian Bach and "Prelude and Fugue in G Major" also by Bach. Paul has been the summer organist for the past several years at the church and just presented a recital at the college in Wheaton.

Miss Mary Chris LaKome will be the featured soloist. Miss LaKome has been very active with several local theatre groups including PM&L. At present she is studying acting at St. Nicholas School in Chicago and appearing in an Equity production of "The Curse of An Aching Heart" as a student member of the cast.

The church's Sanctuary Choir, under the direction of Ken Smouse, will also be performing. Their numbers include "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Johann Sebastian Bach and "With a Voice of Singing" by Martin Shaw.

The Methodist Church has been a very active part of the community since its beginnings in 1879. They invite the community to celebrate their heritage with them.

Helping You Achieve Security!

In today's economy, one wonders what the future will bring. We all wonder where we should look for the security that we need to help plan our future. Antioch Savings is helping.

History, over the past ten years, has proven that investors almost always get the greatest return on their investment when deposited into a high yielding account at a financial institution. For example, earnings on Antioch Savings' longest term CD's were almost always above the earnings paid on the same long term investment in industrial, transportation, or utility stocks over the last ten years. Furthermore, those same stocks, during that time period, were worth less than their original purchase price more than fifty per cent of the time. When you save at Antioch Savings, your funds are continually growing at our high interest rates and all of your accounts are insured to $40,000 by the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corporation. That's security!

You should also know that when you save at Antioch Savings, your dollars are invested back into the community for housing. That's how the savings & loan industry started years ago—friends pooling their funds together to lend to those in the community for their own home. Even today, with all the new services that an S&L can provide, we loan a majority of our funds to home-buyers. What better way is there to invest money than into a home? We've all seen how our homes have appreciated in value through the years. We've seen how the S&L has helped build and continues to help build the community today. That's security!

In helping the community to grow, Antioch Savings has grown to nearly sixty million dollars in assets. It is considered one of the state's highest performance S&L's having achieved an increase in earnings of 140% over the last two years. In helping to further the growth and stability of the community, Antioch Savings is opening a new branch in Antioch to help better serve a new section of town. As our community grows and gets stronger so do we. That's security!

During these times when you're wondering where you can find that extra security you need, try us. You'll find another way that Antioch Savings is "Making Good Things Happen."

Lotus School eyes district consolidation

by ROGER RUTHHART
Managing Editor

Despite action by the Lotus School Board postponing an earlier proposed tax referendum, citizens of the district remain active in pushing for consolidation with the Johnsbury Unit School District.

According to Pat Catalano who served on the lay committee appointed by the board to look into district finances, a newly formed committee will continue to lobby against the tax referendum and push for consolidation.

FOLLOWING recommendations by the lay committee, the board officially disbanded the group. However, the concerned residents formed their own group, calling it "Citizens For Education Through Consolidation."

"We are still working to try to go for consolidation with Johnsbury," said Mrs. Catalano. She said the board is still investigating the affect of consolidation with the different neighboring districts and she admitted that her committee wasn't even sure if Johnsbury would accept them.

Other active committee members include Jane Waldeck, Frank and Sandy Merrill and Mary Wanhala. Other residents of the district have been contacted, but no official meeting has been held. Mrs. Catalano said approximately 25 other families are interested in backing the interests of the committee.

"THE BOARD IS still not convinced that the school is in the (financial) condition that it's in," said Mrs. Catalano. "They still have it in the back of their heads to go for a referendum."

"Consolidation is inevitable. Mr. Brumm (district financial consultant) has even said that the referendum will probably only ease the situation for about three years and then we'll probably have to consolidate," she said. "In the meantime we'll be running up unnecessary debt."

The committee would like to see consolidation now, she said. "One way or another we're going to have to pay. We'd rather have the money go to education than into bonds."

MRS. CATALANO said that the committee is also concerned about what she called secret school board meetings reportedly held at the home of School Board President Vern Thelen.

Mrs. Catalano charged that the board met in violation of the open meetings act on May 3 at Thelen's home and made their original decision to hold a referendum June 9. That decision was later reversed by the board which decided to wait 60 days and study the possibility of consolidation more fully.

Mrs. Catalano said the committee she is on will still work for consolidation with Johnsbury and actively oppose a referendum or any bond issue. She said petitions calling for consolidation with Johnsbury have already been drawn up.

Meanwhile the school board is meeting with representatives of surrounding grade school districts as Fox Lake, Antioch, and Grass Lake Grade Schools as well as the Johnsbury Unit District to see how they feel about consolidation with the Lotus District.

Turn your home into an energy conservation machine. With a heat pump.

Instead of burning scarce fuels, the heat pump uses electricity to capture heat from a limitless energy source. The sun.

Even on cloudy, cold winter days, there's still solar heat in the air. The heat pump captures this heat and pumps it to where it can be used.

It's the most practical, efficient heating and cooling system you can install today. And it's dramatically changing the way we use energy.

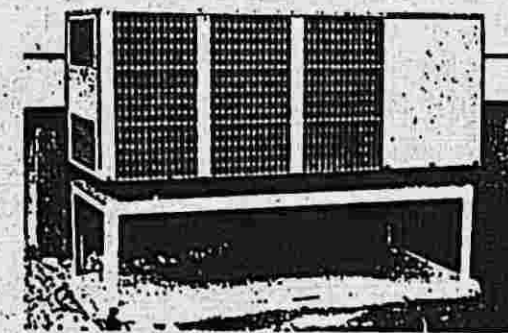

Turns heat energy outside in and inside out.

The same principle that makes the heat pump work is already at work in your home's inside your refrigerator. In fact, a heat pump is a lot like a refrigerator.

There's an indoor unit that consists of a coil and fan. There's an outdoor unit that consists of a coil, fan and compressor. Piping connects them. Inside the system, a refrigerant circulates, "carrying" the heat from inside out and outside in.

In winter, the refrigerant in the outdoor coil absorbs solar heat, is compressed and pumped inside. The heat comes out to keep you warm.

The warmer the outdoor temperature, the more heat there is to be transferred.

The energy-smart heat pump is installed on the outside of the home and is about the same size as a conventional central air conditioning unit.

But as the temperature goes down, there's less heat available. The heat pump is then automatically supplemented with electric resistance heaters.

In summer, the process is reversed. Warm air inside the home is blown over the indoor coil. The refrigerant absorbs this heat, is pumped outside, then condensed. The heat comes out, leaving you cool. And the unit filters the air and dehumidifies, too.

Commonwealth Edison
Working for you.

Produces more energy than it uses.

Unlike systems that merely use up energy to make heat, the heat pump uses electricity to produce more energy than it uses. Over the entire winter season, a heat pump plus the supplemental heaters provide at least 1.5 units of heat energy for every equivalent unit of electricity used. It's this extra energy bonus that makes the heat pump a smart investment.

The initial cost is a little higher. But the operating cost is lower. So in the long run, the heat pump can help save.

How to get one.

You can often replace your present forced-air system with a heat pump. Installing a heat pump in a new home is even easier.

Either way, it's important to get a quality product and have it properly installed and serviced. See the listing below.

If you'd like to know more, call your local Commonwealth Edison office and ask for our consumer information booklet on electric heat pumps. Our marketing engineers will be glad to talk to you about your plans.

FINANCIAL NEWS

by

It's hard to compare interest rates, know which one is the best. The Congress has established a way of measuring interest. They made it a part of the Truth in Lending laws that your lender must tell you the simple interest equivalent of all interest charged on a loan. You remember from an earlier column that simple interest is the method where interest is calculated each month on the balance remaining at that time. Congress feels that this is the truest measure of interest charges. By requiring the lender to tell you the simple interest equivalent, Congress made comparisons easy. The lender has to do all the calculating. Congress called the measure the "Annual Percentage Rate" (APR). The APR is the effective annual simple interest rate on the money you receive when you take out a loan.

Let's take a look at mortgages as an example. Most lenders will charge a simple interest rate on mortgages, so the APR and the contract rate (the rate quoted in the note) will be the same. Most lenders will also charge points, usually from 1 to 3 per cent of the amount borrowed. Uncle Sam wants those points called interest too. Specifically, he considers points to be discount interest. That's good because this way, the points are income tax deductible. It does however, throw off the APR to call the points interest. The effect of the points must be added to the simple interest rate to get the APR. It doesn't affect the amount you pay.

The lender still figures payments based on the contract rate. The rate is higher for disclosure purposes only. This clouds the picture when you're comparing mortgage rates. Knowing the contract rate and the points charged tells you more than knowing the APR where the effects of both have been lumped together. Still, the APR is useful.

The APR is particularly useful when you are putting money into an account. With accounts they called APR "Effective Annual Yield", but it's essentially the same thing. A savings certificate will state an interest rate. The frequency of compounding will affect how much interest you actually receive. The effective annual yield is the amount of money you will get in interest for each $100 left in the account for one year. For example, the effective annual yield on 8 year certificates at a Savings and Loan is 8.45 per cent. You will receive $8.45 for every $100 left in one of those accounts for one year.

AARP members attend conference on health

A major conference dealing with critical problems in America's health care system on May 10 and 11 at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago, was attended by Esther Aiani, president of Antioch AARP and John Wenclawski, legislative chairman.

Other members from the chapter were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Spiering, vice president and second vice president; Helen Halka, treasurer; Blanche Babik, membership chairman; John Babik, board member; Lydia Sorenson and Hilda Thibodeau.

THE ACTIVITY was designed to illuminate one of the most significant and controversial national issues of this century: how to restructure our health system to assure every American quality health care at affordable prices.

An estimated 50,000 persons each year file petitions for bankruptcy, due to excessive medical and health care bills which they are unable to meet, it was pointed out.

Health care is not a new issue for AARP associations.

"But it has become a dominant concern simply because the structural weaknesses in our present system have bred inflation rates that are absolutely intolerable. And we learned that among all major industrialized nations of the world, only the United States and South Africa have not developed a national health system," a spokesman said.

"It has been said that 'Information is Power'. Surely there is power in numbers. With our combined membership of some 12.4 million, we honestly believe that we can become the major force in this nation for reforming our health care system," the spokesman continued.

"WE BELIEVE we can and we will, attain our goal. There is no greater legacy for our children and our children's children, than an efficient, affordable, compassionate system of health care — a system befitting the kind of nation we are and want to be," the spokesman concluded.

CLC begins work on Learning Center

The completion of the Learning Resource Center at the College of Lake County will bring the total building plans for the college to over 50 per cent completion.

Still in the future are plans for a student center and an athletic facility. Students are currently using the Armory in Waukegan for indoor athletic activities.

This addition to the main building will be funded by 75 per cent state funds and 25 per cent from CLC's building fund, which is gathered from local sources of revenue.

The construction of the learning resource center is on schedule according to the original overall plan for CLC. However, CLC's Director of Campus Development Donald Murray, sees completion of the total plan, which includes the student center and athletic facility, complicated by a trend on the state level of cutting back on the state portion of funds for building construction.

As the state portion decreases, the local portion increases, which may affect completion of the campus as originally planned.

The learning resource center is expected to be completed and ready for occupancy by fall of 1980.

Harland family does well on track

This past weekend was a good one for the Harland family of Antioch.

Mike, a senior at Southwest State University in Marshall, Minn. took fifth place in the 3,000 meter steeplechase, with a time of 10:45.2, at the Northern Intercollegiate Conference Track Meet held at Mankato, Minn.

Bill also anchored the mile relay team for Winona while Mike was seventh in the 5,000 meter with a time of 15:03.13.

While this was going on, 500 miles away their sister, Nancy a sophomore, placed fourth in the mile run at the IHSA district track meet in Wheeling.

Nancy ran a 5:39 for a new school record at Antioch High School.

Mike, Bill and Nancy are the children of Dick and Pat Harland of Antioch.
